

Autism Does Not Have a Single Face

The need for a diversified service offer, because needs are diversified

My name is _____

I am (age) _____

I live at (address) _____

With (brothers, sisters, parents, etc.) _____

People say that I am rather (qualitative) _____

I am really interested by (passion/interest) _____

Choose one or more themes and add them in the form of a list or history:

-Why it is important that I/my child receive specialized adaptation/rehabilitation services

E.g.: to continue to acquire skills, understand sexuality, understand my autism, understand the world around me, be able to be integrated, etc.

- Why it is important that I/my child receive socio-professional services

E.g.: to feel useful, be valued, continue to make progress or maintain my skills, etc.

- Why it is important that I/my child receive housing services

E.g.: I want to develop my autonomy, but I need support and supervision so that it can be successful, I want to move out of my parents' house, because this is a normal stage in life, etc.

- Why it is important that I/my child receive respite services

E.g.: so that my parents can unwind, to have fun, meet people my age, develop my social skills, go out, etc.

- Why it is important that I/my child receive health services

E.g.: because I am suffering, I always have stomach pain, my health is deteriorating, my psychiatrist gives me medication, but no one takes care of my physical health, etc.

To be added next:

In reality or in my daily life

E.g.: I have been waiting since..., the funding I receive is clearly insufficient to meet my respite needs, I am losing skills that I had previously, I feel useless, I feel depressed
